Frankly Speaking About Cancer

HOST: Kim Thiboldeaux, Pres./CEO of The Wellness Community

Cancer and the Workplace: Know your employment rights when coping with cancer

"As if a cancer diagnosis wasn't overwhelming enough, many people also have to worry about keeping their jobs while undergoing treatment. Learn about some of the many issues of cancer in the workplace by joining host Kim Thiboldeaux and guests as they discuss rights to medical leave, job security, information about employment discrimination and much more. Guests include Gary B. Ross and Andrew D. Morrison, both Founders and Managing Partners of Ross & Morrison, a law firm which specializes in the representation of employees diagnosed with cancer."
